

Marxism and the State Lessons of the French Revolution of May 1968

45 years ago this May, the workers and youth of France rose up by the millions in the biggest revolutionary strike wave in world history. Factories, universities, neighborhoods, military barracks, and the streets were occupied and barricaded. Entire factories were unionized virtually overnight. The future of capitalism in the heart of Europe was seriously in doubt.

Join the Workers International League for a discussion on the revolutionary events of May 1968, and the lessons we can draw for today's struggle against austerity, cuts, and the crisis of capitalism. Bring your friends, co-workers, questions, and ideas, and join us in the struggle for a better world!
